ASAP Benefit Concert

A GIFT FROM THE HEART

People living in war-torn, economically depressed countries in Southeast Asia often suffer from poverty, hunger, disease, governmental oppression and lack of education. Most Southeast Asians have never heard the true message about their loving Savior. God feels the suffering of His children and He desires each of their hearts, so they can live forever in perfect peace and abundance with Him. Adventist Southeast Asia Projects (ASAP) follows Christ's call to reach the persecuted and vulnerable NOW because He is coming very soon!

Would you be interested in partnering with God as He works through ASAP to bring the gospel to the persecuted and suffering in Southeast Asia? Please fill out the enclosed card today.

FEATURING JEE WONG

Jee Wong is a songwriter, accomplished pianist and director of Prosser Music Academy in Renton, WA. A fascinating individual who is dedicated to his music, whether he is teaching a small group of children as Director of Prosser Music Academy or performing as a concert pianist for large audiences in Japan. His work as solo pianist and collaborative artist has brought him across the United States and many countries abroad. He gained national attention when his multi-media soundtrack "Lotus" was presented at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in 1999. One year later, Yamaha Pianos in Japan signed him for a seven countries concert and workshop tour in Southeast Asia. Prior to coming to the States, Jee grew up in a Buddhist culture in Southern Malaysia, having a natural gift for hearing, feeling and playing music at a very young age. He became a Christian while attending college in Montana. With a heart for missions, Jee endeavors to create awareness about the needs of the poor and suffering who are without Christ in Southeast Asia.
